INTRODUCTION

Badminton Wales' Code of Ethics and Behaviour is the ethical philosophy under which the sport operates. It describes the behaviour expected of all within the badminton family in Wales.

Badminton Wales is responsible for setting standards and values to apply throughout the sport at every level.

Badminton Wales' Code of Ethics and Behaviour encapsulates all the sporting, moral and ethical principles that badminton represents. The Code is intended for all participants and disciplines within the sport. Everyone involved in the sport should promote equality of access and opportunity, fairness and respect. All those involved within badminton have a responsibility to act according to the highest standards of integrity and to ensure that the reputation of the sport is, and remains, high.

The purpose of the Code of Ethics and Behaviour is to:

1. Establish the Code of Behaviour (expected minimum standards of behaviour and conduct) for all people involved within the sport, and;
2. Provide information on reporting and disciplinary procedures.

Terminology

For the purpose of clarification some specific terms are explained here:

- The badminton family incorporates everyone involved with the sport of Badminton in Wales, and includes all individuals, affiliated bodies, clubs, associations, and other organisations involved in any capacity in the game of badminton, and whether or not members of Badminton Wales. For the avoidance of doubt, this includes all players and anyone working within badminton (in a paid or voluntary capacity, and whether as an employee or on a self-employed or other work basis) including all coaches, umpires and other officials.
- Conflicts and declarations of interest – If you have several interests, you are advised to declare such interests when accepting appointments and then to conduct yourself professionally, never allowing such interests to cause a conflict in the role in hand.
- Young People – There are many references to young people within this document and we define young people as persons under the age of 18. It is important to recognise that while some of the codes give guidance for activity that is exclusively for young people, many senior badminton teams/clubs also include young people.
- Suitably Insured – Badminton Wales' affiliated members, clubs, leagues, counties, umpires, referees and coaches who are on the coaches register are covered by civil liability and personal accident insurance (the policies of which are on the Badminton Wales website www.badminton.wales). Please note that non-affiliated members, clubs, leagues, counties, umpires, referees and coaches who are not on the coaches' register are not covered by Badminton Wales' insurance.
- Expected minimum standards of behaviour and conduct – the examples given under the main headings are not exhaustive but are examples of behaviour that is or is not acceptable.

HOW TO USE THE CODE OF ETHICS AND BEHAVIOUR

The Code of Ethics and Behaviour has a generic element which relates to all within the sport. If you have a voluntary, paid or participant role which is not specifically referred to or you do not have a specific role within badminton, then the Generic Code of Behaviour (next page) applies to you.

Some specific roles have added guidance.

- Your Role: to find the specific Code of Behaviour that relates to your role please see section 2.
- Multiple Roles: if you have multiple roles you should use the respective Codes of Behaviour for each role.
